ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention provides a user with a user interface that is convenient and easy to use. In a case where authentication data in an image file is MAC data, data related to the image file is displayed in the first window 301 (S206). In a case where the authentication data in the image file is digital signature data, data related to the image file is displayed in the second window 301 (S211).